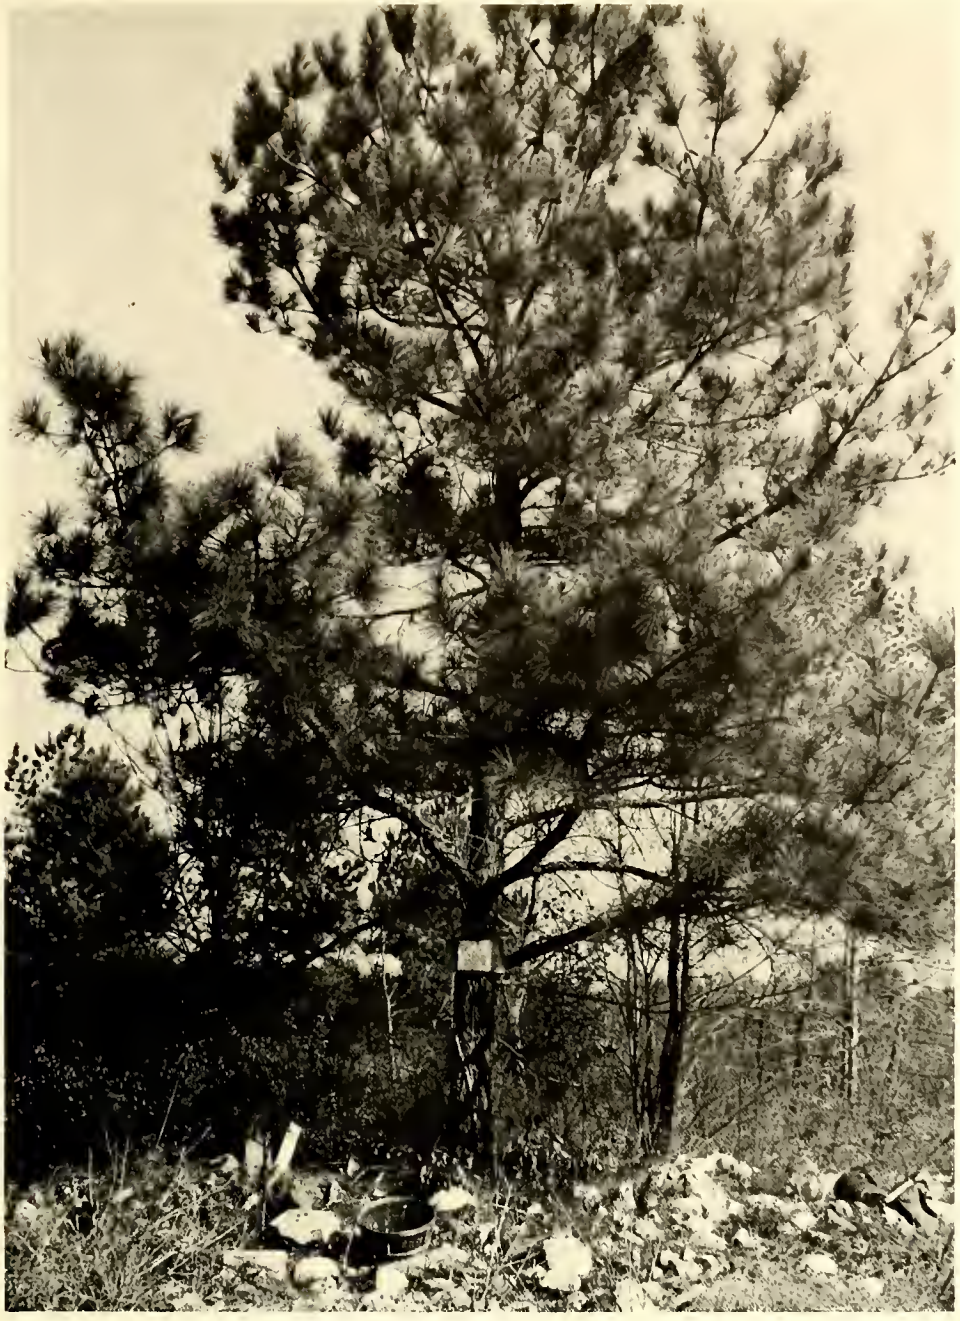
CARILLON '73 . . .
Life '73 . . .
our world '73 . . .



but our world goes beyond this, to a world often less pleasant than we think . . . for the world in 1973 is a world where poverty lives on every corner . . . slums stifle the heart of every city . . . a world where pollution and abuse often chokes out the beauty that is there . . .

The beauty of life is dimmed by loneliness, sadness, and fear . . .

The radiance and vitality of youth — of life — is tarnished by pain, and yes, even extinguished as life ends in death.

Yet, if one looks hard enough and long enough, a spark can be found . . . a small spark of light . . . of hope . . . of joy . . . Somewhere a candle glows, all alone, hidden, wiating to be used.

. . . the light of the glow of a carefree child at play, or the warmth and assurance of a hand reaching out in love.

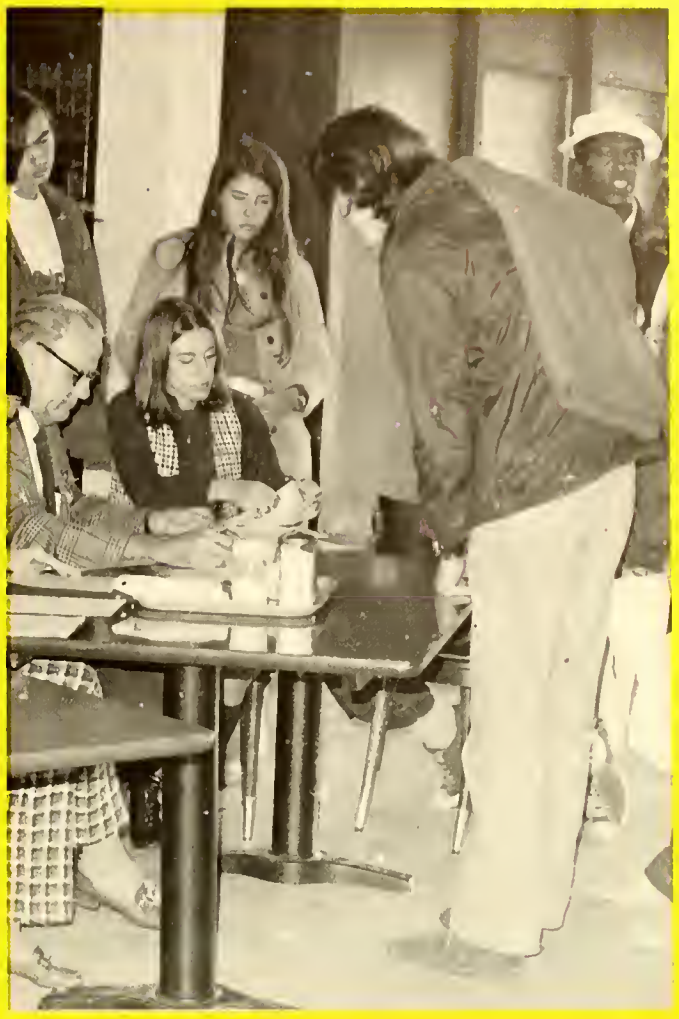
. . . assurance that comes from knowing you're a part of the whole . . . of a group, a crowd, a relationship.



A part of the whole . . . the whole of life . . . the whole of the world '73 . . . the challenge to find

. . . beauty

. . . peace

. . . happiness

. . . love

. . . yourself

Life is its own challenge, its own hope,
its own reward; for with each new day,
is a brand new chance,
to search . . . to discover . . . to live.

"Satan Bug" by Steven Quigley

SILENCE?

Silence the violence of the rats in their kingdom
Silence the rapists, murders, and ignorance of man
Silence this destruction which torments my freedom
Silence please someone reach out for our hand
The trees
The breeze
Leaves floating away with the rivers and oceans of knowledge
A train is passing and seems distant once more Sleep if you can with the set of the sun so serene
There is a new dawn
Is there a new day?

White just isn't.
It's the emptiness unable to be filled.
If this is true, why are births and weddings white?
The absence of life and joy.
The absence of color, of feeling, of love.
White just isn't.

Red is the symbol of anger or fear.
Blood rushing to ones head or oozing from a cut.
It is also a heart, soft and warm.
Beating harder and stronger
When love is shining through.

Green is the color of envy.
But it also represents the leaves in spring.
The freshly mowed grass.
Or the soft eyes of a cat as it purrs and cuddles around your feet.
As you reach to take something of me.

Blue is the color of sadness of loneliness.
The loneliness grows as the blue gets darker.
You live in a world without anyone else
As the blue slowly melts into black.

Black isn't a color, but rather the world I live.
The darkness swarms over my body as a hawk devouring its prey
Death is represented by black.
But black is all colors melted together.
All the joys, angers, loneliness, happiness, and emptiness Rolled into one ugly color called black.

PEOPLE

People come and people go . . .
Faces come and faces go . . .
life crowds together . . . a hungry lunch line.
Creating in the rush-memories that smoulder (half of what they could have been) waiting for a cigarette butt to kindle their flame.

Some people crowd the starting gate and jump the blocks before the gun-fire splits
the silence . . . then half way around the track they stumble, exhausted.
Last in a one horse race . . . but if you question them before they die they'll tell you how they led for half the way.

Ronnie Bullard

A hundred thousand frozen smiles buried in the ground.
A hundred thousand grinning skulls without a single sound.
A hundred thousand skeletons with lead lodged in their bones.
A hundred thousand men and boys who'll never return to home.

A hundred thousand tears
shed for those who died,
A hundred thousand prayers
sent by those who cried.
A hundred thousand wishes that may as well've left unsaid,
For a hundred thousand words of sorrow could not raise them from the dead.

ANKLET UNTO A BRACELET

Upon her wrist she wears my heart. The golden chain is the heart-strings which bind my heart and love as they be linked together in a stead-fast bond. The link is being that lonely look expressed as through her longing eyes. My sight is yet a vision of hope, a ray of shielded life.
Yet, eyes do see what heart and mind does command, and false gold soon shall tarnish.

DRIVING BACK TO SCHOOL

Driving down the highway with many miles to go,
the twisting, winding curves
they whisper to go slow.

But riding in this open car
I'm racing with the wind, faster . . . faster . . . faster . . .
I fear I shall not win.

The white lines are retreating they know they shall be last,
to them there is no matter
if I dare go fast.

The radial tires are spinning we'll surely come in first, but yet the wind is gaining its stirring up the dirt.

We share the lead while flying now running neck and neck.
the winner is the great one there is no second best.

The white doors now are closing a friend he shakes his head,
a new race is beginning as I lay in this bed.

The lights are now a flashing
how fast they seem to go,
but will they win my race for me
I feel I shall not know.

At last the doors fly open the winner now is known,
the sheets fall off my body
I feel the wind pass on.

Spring Festival

Punch

Spring Festival, April 21 and 22, 1972 . . . The Junior Class is to thank for it . . . the dance off-campus in the McNairy Building, the beautiful members of the May Court, and the great sound of "Micropolis." Saturday night — and it was fun-time again; a really fantastic concert starring "Punch" and special guests appearances. Spring and all its joy, beauty, and fun!!

Lysistrata

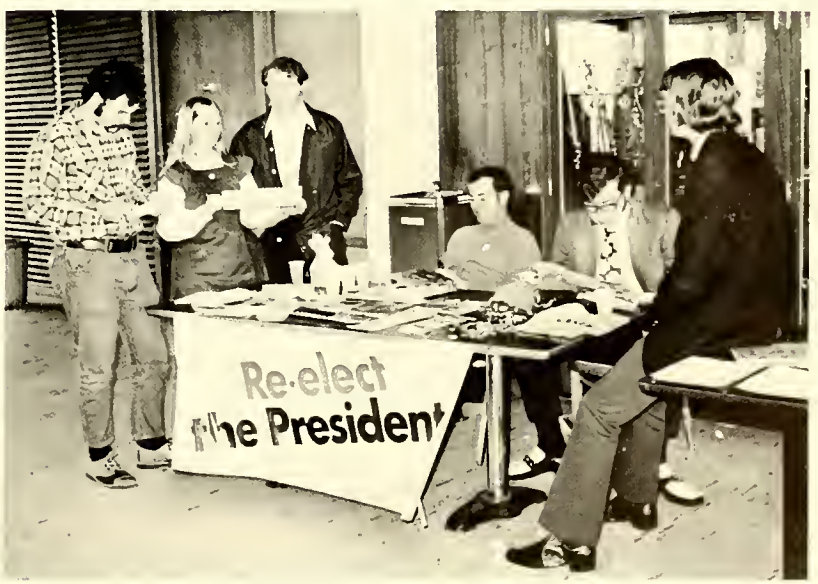
As their fall play, the Green and Gold Masque-Keys presented the Greek play LYSISTRATA by Aristophanes. In addition to the regular performances in Reeves Auditorium, there were two matinees at the Michael Terrence Ampitheater.

Founders' Day

This year the Fine Arts Department was honored in view of Founders' Day. The art department presented an exhibition which covered each phase of art offered at Methodist. The music department presented the wind ensemble and chorus which was accompanied in part by members of the Fayetteville Symphony Orchestra. At the close of the assembly, L. Stacy Weaver, one of the founding fathers and President of Methodist made the announcement to the Board of Trustees, faculty, and students that he was retiring as President at the end of the 1972-73 term.

Campaign '72

By November, scarcely a wall, bumper, or bulletin board was without some type of slogan or sticker. For many M.C. students, campaigns meant waiting — hours in the Union for presidential candidates, Terry Sanford and Shirley Chisom — at assembly for Republican nominee for governor, Jim Holshouser —. Election year 1972 was a time of "firsts." The first time to vote for most of our students, especially those 18 year-olds. Also, the first time in many years that a North Carolinan could shake hands with a Republican before the election and say he had shook hands with the governor after the election!



Christmas

Christmas at Methodist takes many views — old traditions with new acquaintances — the memories of other M.C. Christmases — or the deep-down ache of your first holiday season away from home. Whatever the event, though, there are similar emotions involved. Whether it's seeing a tree and tinsel, or the humble nativity scene, the traditional Christmas banquet, a candlelight service, or a concert by the chorus, or Santa and the elves, or just a "hall" party with the old gang, Christmas is joy. Christmas is fun, acting like a kid again. Christmas is love. Christmas is hope. Christmas is.

Faith and Life Week

"The Imperative Now — Dare to Share that you Care" was the theme for this year's Faith and Life Week. The guest speaker for the entire week was Dr. Clingman C. Capps, the pastor of Jonesboro United Methodist Church, Sanford, North Carolina. The week was headed by a coffeehouse, followed through the week by open discussions in Weaver and Garber Hall, and the Student Union. On Thursday night there was a Time of Sharing and Love Feast in the Chapel, and the week ended with a closing service and Communion.

Presidents Verne Womack and Ken Valentine with Dr. Capps

Valentine's Dance

February fourteenth found Methodist College flooded with red ribbons, roses, and chocolate! To add the the festivities of the day, the S.G.A. Entertainment Committee provided a dance in the Student Union, featuring The Red Staircase. The mood was romantic . . . the theme was love . . . and the result was a real good time and FUN!

Fine Arts

The Fine Arts were well represented this year as Methodist College and the City of Fayetteville were greatly entertained. Many arts were presented including the opera, Rigoletto, The United States Army Field Band, Fayetteville Symphony, Methodist College Chorus, the Preservation Hall Jazz Band, and art and photography exhibits. The fine arts permit the students and the college community to join together to enjoy aspects of our culture which surround us, and brings the two closer together.

Assemblies

Wednesday, 10:30 to 11:00 a.m., Reeves Auditorium — the usual assembly programs were not so usual, all the time. Movies, lectures, political speakers, Founders' Day, Awards Day, and concerts were all represented on this year's assembly agenda. Everyone's favorite speaker, Rev. "Gil" Gilespie, visited us again and brought a dynamic message. Concerts by the M.C. Chorus and Stage Band were very big hits. The biggest spectacle, perhaps, was the U.S. Army Field Band. This group of young men entertained the students and faculty with beautiful versions of popular, rock, and patriotic numbers, receiving a jubilant standing ovation at the close.

Cheerleaders

ROW 1: Brenda Smith (Co-Chief), Dusty Woodbury, Lisa Holub. ROW 2: Elaine Pulliam, Alice Stuckey (Chief).

Hard work, often unnoticed, is the role of the cheerleaders. The purposes, to promote school spirit and enthusiasm, many times goes unfulfilled. The reward comes not from a screaming crowd but after forty minutes of tense emotions including the goal, the tie, and last but not least, the victory.

Beginning in the spring after elections the cheerleaders work throughout the summer and the next year. Again this past summer they attended East Coast Cheerleading Camp serving as hostesses. Money-making projects, pep rallies, and bonfires were among the activities of the 1972-73 cheerleading squad.

Row 1. Mike Casey, Alice Stuckey, Brenda Smith, and Mike Platz. Row 2. Lisa Holub, Ed Housley, Dusty Woodbury, Levy Cameron, Karlene Wagner, Brent Matthews, Elaine Pulliam, and Danny Fowler.

As the end of soccer season drew near; the cheerleaders worked diligently with their male partners in order to prepare for the coming basketball season. Many thanks go to these men for devoting their time, effort, and most of all their enthusiasm toward the promotion of school spirit among the Monarch fans.

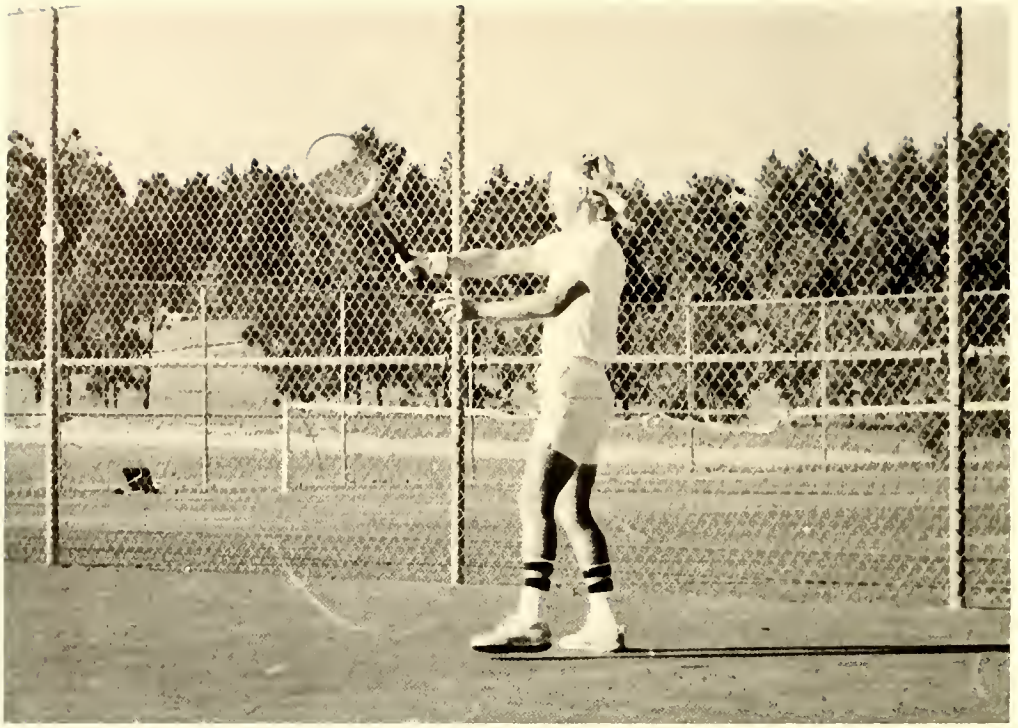
The 1972 baseball team was undoubtedly the best baseball team in the history of Methodist College winning fifteen out of twenty-five overall games. The team utilized good pitching and a surprising hitting power plus some superb defense to compile their best record ever. Besides winning the Dixie Athletic Conference Championship, six of the Monarch players made the all conference team. They included Larry Philpott, Frank Layton, Paul Sanderford, Phil Mullen, Fletcher Poulk, and Jerry Neal. The team finished third in the NAIA District 29. Another highlight of the 1972 season was the naming of Coach Shelley as "Coach of the Year" in District 29.

The Monarchs look forward to another winning season in 1973 since only two of the 1972 team graduated. The rest of the team plus several very energetic freshmen will strive diligently to keep the good record.

Tennis



ROW 1: Glen Conrath, John Myers, Kit Cholwibul, Vaughn John, Larry Nunnery, William Riddick. ROW 2: Dave Desrosiers, Richard Rose, Mason Sykes (Coach), Vance Pepper.

Once again Vaughn John, a junior on the Monarch tennis team led the D.I.A.C. Conference in individual play. The 1972 Monarch team placed third in the conference tournament at St. Andrews College with every member of the team winning at least one match. It was a long hard season for the Monarchs with many frustrations and many disappointments; however, the season altogether was much better than expected. Individual team members and their seedings were as follows:

Vaughn John 1
John Myers 2
Kit Chowibul 3
Larry Nunnery 4
Glen Conrath 5
William Riddick 6
Dave Desrosiers 7
Richard Rose 8
Leonard Sledgeski 9
Vance Pepper 10

Golf

The 1972 Monarch golf team participated for the first time in match competition. The team did a very good job as they placed fifth in district competition. A much better season is anticipated for the 1973 season. Team members and their seedings are as follows:

Ron Bremer 1
Mike Kinlaw 2
Ronald Davenport 3
David Berry 4
Robert Turner 5
Griffin Herndon 6

The 1972 Monarchs began their season with much enthusiasm and anxiety. They were determined to make this season an improvement over the previous one. Their first attempt was successful as the Monarchs ted the Braves of Pembroke State University by a score of 3-1. The next three games were somewhat a disappointment to the Monarchs as well as the fans when Methodist was defeated by Lynchburg College, Campbell College, and St. Andrews College. The Monarchs, being eager to put a halt to their losing streak, were victorious as they combined their efforts for a 4-0 win over Atlantic Christian College. The following six games were much the same as the first five games. Probably the most exciting game of the season was the homecoming game against U.N.C.-Greensboro. It was a beautiful day which was a great contract to last year. The Monarchs swept to a 4-0 victory as result of fantastic team effort. The season still did not meet the expectations of the team but it did prove to be quite a season.

Cross Country

How many people on campus would run from six to ten miles every afternoon over a course of steep hills and strength-draining sand knowing that their efforts would probably be in vain when competing with the other experienced runners in the conference who had trained all summer? The eight freshmen and one returning sophomore who composed the 1972 cross country team had the dedication to do just that. Their efforts were at last rewarded in their final home meet as they swept to victory over St. Andrews and Greensboro College taking four out of the top five honors.

Basketball

Excitement . . . the only word for the 1972-73 Monarch basketball season. From the time the team started practice in August until the last games in February, there were times of unity and disappointment. The team was on top together and it fell together absorbing all the joys and pains which go with each game. After tons of sweat and miles of running for each player, the Monarchs became a well-drilled and champion type of team.

After Christmas the attitudes of the players appeared to change, as the only drive left was the pride taken in winning the competition. The season was a good one, but again it was disappointing in the fact that the goals of the Monarchs were not reached. The dreams of the district championship and the trip to Kansas City fell through once more. Despite all the disappointment, the Monarchs remained together and contributed all toward the best possible season.

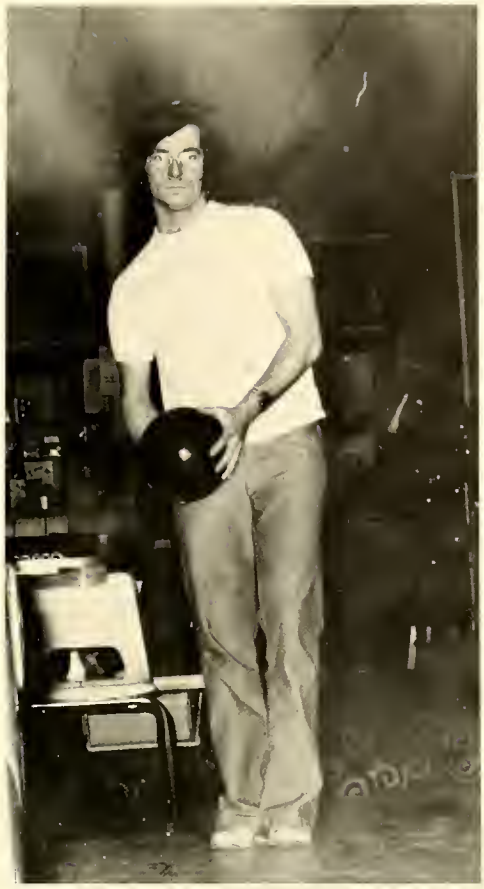
What does it take to develop the skills of a good bowling team? Many things, being; experience, talent, stamina, patience, potential, love for the game, a good and able coach, initiative, capable subs, spirit, luck and the ability to rebound from a touch defeat. These are the makings of a good bowling squad — The Methodist College Bowling Team for 1972-73.



Softball

Much to everyones sue's surprise, the third floor Sanford was finally defeated in at least one intramural sport. Congratulations go to second floor Cumberland for their fine victory in the softball competition.

football

When you say intramural football at M.C. you might as well just say 3rd floor Sanford. They seem to be in a rut because for the 4th year in a row they have won the football championship. Maybe they never heard the song "Sometimes You Win, Sometimes You Lose".

Basketball

Once again intramural basketball is under way with full force. It's only too bad that deadlines have to be met before the final outcome of the season; however, the season may prove to be quite a season for everyone involved.

Volleyball

This year four teams made the intramural volleyball playoffs. The Day Students, 3rd Sanford, 2nd Sanford, and 3rd Cumberland were the four teams competing for the championship. 3rd Cumberland and the Day Students made the final playoffs and once again 3rd Cumberland was victorious.

THIRD FLOOR CHAMPS: Nolan Becker, Tom Garber, Whit Kidwell, William Riddick, Mike Twiddy.

Ping Pong

The 1973 Ping Pong tournament had eight contestants; each demonstrating their skill. Vaughn John a senior this year captured the championship and a nice trophy in the singles competition. Gary Rubart and Parker Jones came out on top in the doubles competition after defeating Vaughn John and Elton Stanley.

soccer

Eagerness and determination led the intramural soccer teams through a chilly, wet season that ended with the men of 3rd floor Sanford capturing the championship by two goal kicks in the final game against a scrappy day student team.

Women's Athletic Association

ROW 1: Debbie Dennis; president. ROW 2: Evelyn Bonner; secretary-treasurer, Debbie Keeler, vice-president, and Mrs. Sandra Nobles, advisor.

The Womens Athletic Association began the 1972 season with much enthusiasm as the members organized exercise classes and volleyball games. Attendance was remarkable. The volleyball team challenged only one team during the season from N.C. Wesleyan College. The Monarch women were quite successful as they defeated their opponents in 2 out of 3 games.

Second semester began with intramural basketball. The interest and participation was very good making this year one of the best ever for the Womens Athletic Association.

The President's Council is composed of presidents and representatives of all clubs on campus, as well as, representatives from the executive branches of the S.G.A. The Council is a "voice" for the students. Since every student at Methodist College makes up the S.G.A., it is important that they have some form of representation concerning decisions made by the S.G.A. executive council. The President's Council provides this obligation.

External Affairs Committee

The Methodist College External Affairs committee is a special committee of the S.G.A. It consists of selected students who are willing to devote their free time to promoting interest and involvement of the general public in Methodist College. The committee accomplishes its goal by assisting with campus student recruiting; including conducting campus tours for high school seniors and other interested groups, serving as ushers at church related and Fayetteville area functions held on campus, and in aiding in the administering of tests and scholarship exams for incoming and prospective students.

State Student Legislature

The North Carolina Student Legislature brings together students from all over the state who are concerned about the issues of the day. These students gather at an annual assembly to discuss these problems and to voice their opinions. The officers of the N.C.S.L. present these opinions to the North Carolina Grand Assembly for their consideration.

Alumni Association

The Methodist College Alumni Association was organized in 1965 to "promote the general welfare of Methodist College and to encourage and stimulate the interest of graduates and former students in the college and in each other."
Homecoming Week is held each fall, and Alumni Day is scheduled as a part of the graduation weekend program. Homecoming activities include a concert, a dance, an alumni-varsity basketball game, a soccer game and a drama production. The Alumni Day activities usually provide entertainment and fellowship opportunities in addition to the annual business meeting and the announcement of the newly-elected officers of the Association. The alumni-varsity basketball game played at Homecoming has been named the D. Johnson Murray II Memorial Game after a 1968 graduate of the college.
Four alumni chapters have been organized in North Carolina and Virginia. Others are planned. An Alumni Liaison Committee visits the campus each year to meet with faculty, administration and students.
The Alumni Newsletter is published quarterly by the Department of Public Relations.
The finance committee of the alumni association conducts an annual giving program each year with contributions increasing at the rate of about five hundred dollars a year. Last year a significant amount was given to the athletic department. The 1972-73 Loyalty Fund Drive assisted the College Chorus with its annual tour.

Garber Hall

Garber Hall, the older of the women's dormitories, has much tradition to live up to, and yearly her residents rise to the occasion. This year was opened by a party for the Freshmen to take up some of that lonely first week-end on campus. This was only the beginning though, for the active Garber girls sponsored numerous cookouts, a Masquerade for Halloween, and other parties throughout the year. Homecoming was as interesting as ever with their own mighty Monarch reigning supreme in the lobby. Mrs. Mildred Stanton as usual proud in many ways that she is a member of Garber Hall not only in an official capacity, but also as a confident and a friend.

Weaver Hall

There's never a dull moment on the north side of campus where Weaver Hall reigns, anything from a street dance to help freshmen become acquainted to "Did a guy just run past our door?!" Although, Weaver can not boast of age — it does have a tradition to live up to and that is one of ACTION! A car wash early in the year helped raise money for Weaver's social activities. Homecoming proved to be very exciting around Weaver as the black kettles were brought out to stew UNCG. Excitement mounted as the Great Pumpkin, Santa, and the guys all made their annual visits to Weaver. Mrs. Huldah Jones watches over the Weaver Women as they strive to arouse some sort of activity on campus, no matter what the time!

Cumberland Hall

As always, Cumberland dorm has proven itself to be full of all kinds of spirit. (a little more of one kind than another) They proved their school spirit by once again walking away with the trophy for their 1972 Homecoming decorations. And this year when they attacked Weaver and Garber they were able to gain entrance — a first in Methodist College's history. Cumberland holds its own as a very unique way of life.

The sounds of Sanford rock from a set of drums and the campus meanwhile rocks from the sounds of Sanford as the sounds of love come from a third floor right window. It has been a year of crutches, Mrs. Marie Simpson, Fiona, milk and tea (sure —), smiles, freshmen, and intramural sports. During Homecoming Week, it was Sanford that lead the successful attack on Weaver and Garber. They seem to know how to get things done!

Mr. Donald Green, faculty advisor.

Clubs and Organizations: Pam Bailey; Regina Hanson; Kathy Woltz; Mary Spilman, editor.

Carillon '73 is the result of many, many headaches and many long, tiresome nights — yet lots of laughs and jokes and cup after cup of black coffee! But more than all this, it's the result of a group of people — students, faculty, publishers, who were willing to give their time, energy, and effort to help make this edition a good one. That was our goal — to produce a good yearbook and, at the same time, not spend above our budget! Drop a page, change type, save space — four pages of color — money — money? — money! — deadlines — deadlines — deadlines!

Green and Gold Masque Keys

"Concentrate! Why aren't you thinking tonight?" These are two frequently heard statements at the Green and Gold Masque Keys' play practices. The purpose of the club is to provide entertainment and a learning experience in drama. "Lysistrata," a Greek play, was a success and was enjoyed by all who attended the performances in Reeves Auditorium. The final performance was done in the Michael Terrence Amphitheater on Sunday of Homecoming Week. In addition to producing a play each semester, the members also have workshops to further their knowledge of the theater and get-togethers for fun and relaxation.

Art Club

Dwight Sheppard, Chang Fiedler, Lynn Hagee, Anglea Tracey, Laura Sullivan, Regina Brown, Pattie Harrison, Paul Marshall — President, Mrs. Eleanor Howell, Mr. Donald Green.

"A work of art in itself is a gesture and it may be warm or cold, inviting or repellent . . . art is not pictures alone. Its place is in everything, as much in one thing as another."

Robert Henri

The art club is as creative as the people involved in it. With the assistance of the club advisor, Mr. Donald Green, the art club would like to contribute to the campus a piece of sculpture done by the club representing an aspect of fine art.

Chorus

The Methodist College Chorus highlighted the year with music for assemblies and local churches and organizations, a winter concert, a Christmas program with the Mrs. Guy School that included between two and three hundred young children, and a tour of the Southeast United States. The music for all concerts was both sacred and secular. The old costumes were discarded for a more formal appearance with black formals for the women and tuxedos for the men. The members of the chorus continued to exemplify the spirit of Methodist College and the love of God.

Mr. Alan Porter, conductor

Stage Band

top: Chris Bryan; Mr. Rogers, conductor; Jim Wolfbrandt, Darius Ned, Phil Jones, Brian Cash, Gary Ferrell. bottom: Ken Williams, Bruce Anderson, Dru Taylor, Charles Fulcrum, Linda Bullard.

The Stage Band is under the direction of Michael Rogers and has done an outstanding job for this year. Concerts, rallies, and assembly programs have kept this group busy and actively participating on the M.C. campus. The hope for next year is to travel around the Fayetteville area to promote Methodist College and its musical department. Good luck on your future goal!

Wind Ensemble

The Wind Ensemble is under the direction of Mr. Michael Rogers. The group has done an outstanding performance in concert, both indoors and out, and assemblies. Each year the group gets larger, yet all who join enjoy the musical, and sometimes comical, talents of all musicians.

Music Club

Sara Edge; Meredith Stone, vice-president; Peggy Bland; Mary Gleaves; Vicki Herndon; Faren Elliot, secretary-treasurer; Janet Graham; Pat O'Brien, program chairman; Carolyn Daniels; Barbara Jones, president.

The Music Club is for those people who are interested in music and what it has to offer. The club sponsors trips to music conferences, flowers for the senior girls' recitals and ushers for those special events of music on campus.

Ethos

The Ethos Club's membership is opened to all students who are interested in and want to become involved in working in social areas. This year Ethos brought several controversial speakers to campus, raised funds for a Day Care Center in Fayetteville, and set up a Drug Awareness Program. Ethos gave their annual talent show in November for Womack Army Hospital, Hillsboro Street School, and several rest homes.

Members: Jim Wolfbrandt — organizer, Tommy Manning, Kathy Woltz, Gail Vaughn, Carmen Evans, Penny George, Tim Snider, Phil Jones, Charlie Bless, Marti White, Heather Lloyd.

Circle K

Miss Vi Brator was crowned Miss Boiler Plant 1972 during the pageant held Homecoming Week.

Circle K as an international club provides an opportunity for service, citizenship, fellowship and leadership. The main activity for Circle K International is to implement a program around the globe to help abolish multiple sclerosis. MS has been described as a "dreadful disease that has crippled so many young adults, shattered their dreams and invaded their happiness," and the Circle K is trying to do their part to fight it. The Circle K has, also, collected for the United Fund, helped the underprivileged, and participated in many service projects for both the college and the community. During the 1972 Homecoming Week, the Circle K presented their annual Miss Boiler Plant Pageant.

Koinonia

Koinonia is an ecumenical group devoted to sharing, fellowship, and interaction for the service of the college and community area. On the campus, Koinonia is an organization . . . neither ancient nor Greek . . . but tries to uphold its meaning of fellowship! Technically, it embodies all students, faculty members, and administrative officers of the school. Literally, it is composed of anyone who cares enough about Methodist College, his fellow students, and the world around him, to become an active member of the organization. This year the organization has strived for a strengthened fellowship on campus through sponsoring coffee-houses, vespers, Monday morning times of sharing, a spring retreat, Faith and Life Week, P.O.W. lectures, and visits to Highland House.

Methodist Men's Club

On October 16, 1972, a new club was formed at Methodist College. This club's purpose is to provide activities such as dances and parties to improve and enhance the social life of the college. The main goal for this club is to contribute its excess money at the end of each school year to the Methodist College Athletic Fund. The club also serves as a service and, at events, a booster club. As a show of unity, members have emblemed jackets. The emblem is represented in old English letters.

Young Republicans

The Methodist College Young Republican Club is one of the most active clubs on campus. The purpose of the club is to interst students in becoming involved with politics. The Young Republicans combine the campus with the local community through their work. By doing this the club is able to bring speakers such as Jim Holshouser to the campus. The club also sponsors dances and parties on campus. Their main goal is to involve the Methodist College student with political activities — campus, state, and national.

Steve Quiggly, Secretary; Jim Gates, President; Kay Walker, Treasurer; Chris Bryan, Vice-President.

History and Political Science Club

The overall aim of the History and Political Science Club is to help prepare its members for careers in teaching law and governmental services. This is mainly done through getting interesting and well known speakers on the campus and through discussions. Among other activities, the club has sponsored a book sale.

Monarch Club

Students who have lettered in a varsity sport compose the Monarch Club. Among their activities is selling drinks at the basketball games. The club's goal is to develop good sportsmanship and school spirit among atheletes and students alike.

Science Club

The Methodist College Science Club was the host for the Eastern District of the Collegiate Academy of the North Carolina Academy of Science. Members from as distant as UNC-W congregated to resolve administration problems and reflect on the speakers who presented a panel discussion on "The State of Our State." The speakers are affiliated with the State Department of Natural and Economic Resources.

Student Education Association

The S.E.A. is affilated with the North Carolina Association of Education and with the National Education Association. The purpose of the club is to give prospective teachers an opportunity to: 1. Develop Leadership skills; 2. Learn about the professional teacher organizations; 3. Become part of the movement to improve the teaching profession. In addition to meetings of the local chapter, which included a variety of speakers, members attended the annual convention of the North Carolina Student Education Association. The S.E.A. is fortunate to have Mrs. Pauline Longest as its advisor, as well as, Dr. McDavid and Mr. Crisp as interested faculty members.

Carolyn Daniels, vice-president; Mary Ellington, treasurer; Jane Cannady, president; Mrs. Longest, advisor; CeCe McKee, secretary.

Economics and Business Club

The Economics and Business Club is composed of those business administration members who wish to aid and broaden their knowledge through discussions and speakers. The club is active in sponsoring parties and other activities.

Spanish Club

The main purpose of the Club Esperanza is to further the use of the Spanish language among the English-speaking people. The colors are green and white; the flower is the carnation and the song is "Clavelitos." The membership is opened to any person with an earnest interest in Spanish culture.

Karate Club

The Methodist College Karate Club was organized four years ago. The purpose of the club is to teach interested students the physical values and mental values of the skills of karate. The goals of the club are simply to remain alive on the campus and to continue to offer a self-defense course for all those interested. The club offers a special self-defense class for the girls on campus.

A dream is conceived by men.
A man among other men is chosen.
The dream becomes a reality through the efforts of the man.
The dream is Methodist College.
The man is Lucius Stacy Weaver.
Through his spirit and leadership for sixteen years the dream has managed to remain a reality.
With Dr. Weaver's retirement it is the wish from the student body that the spirit which has directed us will continue to live on to the end that the whole dream conceived by men becomes reality. the CARILLON salutes Dr. L. Stacy Weaver by simply saying, "Thank you," to a man among men.

Awards

On Awards Day, 1972, held on April 26, several Methodist College students were recognized for various academic accomplishments.

Three persons were recognized for high academic averages. Named Methodist College Scholars were Maurine Jo Davidson of Raleigh, Mrs. Linda Cherrix Stevens of Snow Hill, Md., and Robert Walter Erwin of Fayetteville.

Maurine Davidson of Raleigh and Tommy Smith of Sandston, Va., were presented Outstanding Senior Awards by the senate of the S.G.A. for their service to and exceptional interest in the college.

Nine students received special subject awards. Wesley Brown of Kinston received the Ficken Award. The award honors Dr. Clarence Ficken, first academic dean of Methodist College, and is presented annually to the member of the junior class who has contributed most to mutual understanding between students, administrators and faculty members while at Methodist.

Robin Morrison, a 1972 graduate from Fayetteville, received the Ott-Cooper Science Award. The award honors the first two chairmen of the science department, Dr. Charles Ott and Dr. William C. Cooper. It was presented by Dr. Ott, who commended the recipient for outstanding achievement and service.

James Ledford, from Fayetteville, received the Marie C. Fox Philosophy Award. The award, established by the first professor of philosophy at Methodist, is presented annually to the student who displays outstanding analytical ability, philosophical perspective and creative potential.

Ken Williams, of Fayetteville, was the receipient of the Balaez-Ambrose Mathematics Award. The award was established by a 1969 "summa cum laude" graduate of Methodist, James Loschiavo, in honor of Dr. Ofelia M. Balaez and Robert B. Ambrose, recognizing a student with the greatest creative and academic potential in the field.

Maurine Davidson of Raleigh received the Edna L. Contardi English Award. The award honors a former English professor and is presented to the graduating senior English major who has maintained the highest accumulative academic average in English.

Mrs. Shirley Thompson, of Fayetteville, was awarded the first Yolanda M. Cowley Award to an outstanding student in the area of Spanish determined by the faculty of the department to have the greatest academic potential. The award was established by Maj. Benjamin Esquibel of Fayetteville to honor Dr. Cowley.

Jo-Ann Merritt of Wilmington received the first Plyler-Knott Award established by four students to honor religion professors Dr. Lorenzo Plyler and Dr. Garland Knott. Miss Merritt was judged by the area's faculty to be the most outstanding and deserving senior in the field.

Who's Who

(right) Peggy Jo Bland from Pittsboro, N.C. is a music education and organ major. As a dean's list student, Peggy is a recipient of the M.C. Merit Scholarship and the Myrtle Reeves Scholarship. She has shown much leadership in the M.C. Chorus, as being treasurer for two years. Peggy was a member of the Homecoming and May Court her sophomore year. Her junior year she won the title of Homecoming Queen, Monarch Queen, and runner-up in the DIAC Tournament Queen. Peggy's future plans are to teach music in the public schools.

(left) Four years of student government leadership have gone to prepare John (Chip) Gaudry Dicks for a future career as a lawyer. A political science major, Chip is this year's S.G.A. president. Chip also served as freshman and sophomore class presidents and as vice-president of the S.G.A. during his junior year. A Dean's List student, Chip has participated in cross-country, Young Democrats, Young Republicans, intramural sports and Circle K. Chip is court counselor in the 12th Judicial District, and is a member of the search committee appointed to find a new president for Methodist College.

(right) Wesley F. Brown from Kinston, N.C. has a major in religion and minors in philosophy and english; and has been on the Dean's List every semester. The recipient of two National Methodist Scholarships, the Sanford Scholarship, the Vann Scholarship, and the 1972 Ficken Award, he has also been quite active in Student Government serving as Senator for three years, Chairman of the Academic Affairs Committee, and chairman or member of several other committees. Wes has also been vice-president of the M.C. Chorus and a dorm counselor in Sanford Hall. Upon graduation he will pursue graduate studies in theology at the Divinity School, Duke University.

(left) Wayne Rogers, a history major, is from Beaufort, N.C. He is a Dean's List student and has been active in a number of organizations during his four years at Methodist College. He plans to return next fall and complete the necessary requirements of a North Carolina teaching certificate. He plans to continue his education in graduate school and to work for advanced degrees in the area of European and Russian history and East Asian history and religion. His career plans are centered around either college teaching or possibly government employment.

(right) Maurine Davidson's activities while at Methodist are numerous and varied. She has been an active member of the Literary and Drama Clubs, starring in several productions. She also worked on the newspaper staff and the academic affairs committee. Her freshman year she served on the SSL delegation and senate for two years. Maurine was chairman of the judicial board and hall counsellor in Garber Hall her junior year. She was awarded the Edna Contardi English Award, Outstanding Senior Award, Outstanding Service Award, and named a Methodist College Scholar. She was on the Dean's List each semester.

(left) Ken Williams, a chemistry and mathematics major, is from Fayetteville. A Dean's List student, he has been the recipient of several merit scholarships. His outstanding academic record includes serving as Class Marshal his freshman, sophomore, and junior years and receiving the Balaez-Ambrose Mathematics Award his junior year. Ken has been active in the chorus, the concert band, and the M.C. stage band. He is presently serving as vice-president of the chorus and president of the band. Ken has also been active in the S.G.A., serving as a senior day-student S.G.A. publicity chairman, and a member of the President's Council. He is a member of Circle K and the science club, of which he has been vice-president and secretary-treasurer. This year he is co-business manager of the Carillon. His future plans include working toward a Ph.D. in chemistry.

(left) Ann Vaughn Clark is a Dean's List student majoring in biology and minoring in chemistry and psychology. She has served as vice-president of the Science Club and secretary to the Eastern District of Collegiate Academy of North Carolina Academy of Science. Ann does choreography for the Fort Bragg Playhouse and owns and operates her own dance studio. She has received citations from the USO, Jaycees, Pilot Club, Army Special Services, and other local community organizations.

(above) A business major from Mt. Gilead, N.C., Earl Leake is a Dean's List student. His junior and senior years he served on the President's Council and has been a member of the High Court, of which in his senior year, he was chief justice. Earl was also president of the newly formed Afro Umunne-Mmeko Society and has been a recipient of the Methodist College Merit Scholarship. Earl worked in the library as student assistant for three years. After graduation, he plans to attend the University of North Carolina.

(right) A major in elementary education, Patricia Abernathy has been actively involved in dormitory activities, serving as hall counsellor and later as president of Garber Hall. She has been a member of the Literary Club and the S.E.A. A Dean's List student since her entrance in college as a freshman, Pat served as the female marshal for the junior class. She also is the receipient of the Dunn and Applewhite Scholarships and a part-time worker in the public relations department.

(left) Carolyn Jean Mullenax is a day student from Fayetteville. Her major is history and her minor is French and secondary education. Carolyn's school activities include student secretary to the Registrar for three years, recipient of the Terry Sanford Scholarship, freshman senator, S.G.A. archivist, chairman of the Assembly Planning Committee, a member of the Student Education Association, associate editor of SMALL TALK, and a member of the External Affairs Committee. She is a Dean's List student. Her future plans are to become a social studies teacher on the secondary level.

(left) Rick Farlee is a history major from Beaufort and a Dean's List student. He has served on the yearbook for two years being co-business manager his sophomore year. His freshman year he was vice-president of the Music Club, a member of the Circle K, Young Democrats, and Koinania. Rick was a member of the History and Political Science Club his sophomore year and Business Manager of the Literary Club his junior year. Chorus was also included in his activities for the first three years. As a senior, he is now involved in the Business and Economics Club and the Karate Club.

(left) Winnie McBryde, of Fayetteville, has served on the S.G.A. as archivist, chairman of Election Committee, and secretary. Winnie was a member of the High Court. She has worked, also, with the Methodist College delegation to the North Carolina Student Legislature and served as its secretary and secretary of the state-wide delegation her senior year. She has held membership in the Young Democrats Club and the Literary Club. Winnie was selected as the 1972 Spring Festival Queen, and has been on the Dean's List.

(left) Kaye C. Bledsoe has been a Dean's List student each semester at Methodist. Throughout her four years here, Kaye has participated in the Senate, cheerleading, and W.A.A She has been a dormitory treasurer and taken part in two dramatic presentations. Her junior year she served as chief marshal. Kaye plans to enter elementary education.

(not pictured) Anita Fisher King is a business major from Jacksonville, N.C. She is a Dean's List student and has been a Dingus Scholarship Recipient since her freshman year. Anita has shown outstanding leadership in the Business Club of which she was secretary her junior year. Epilogue

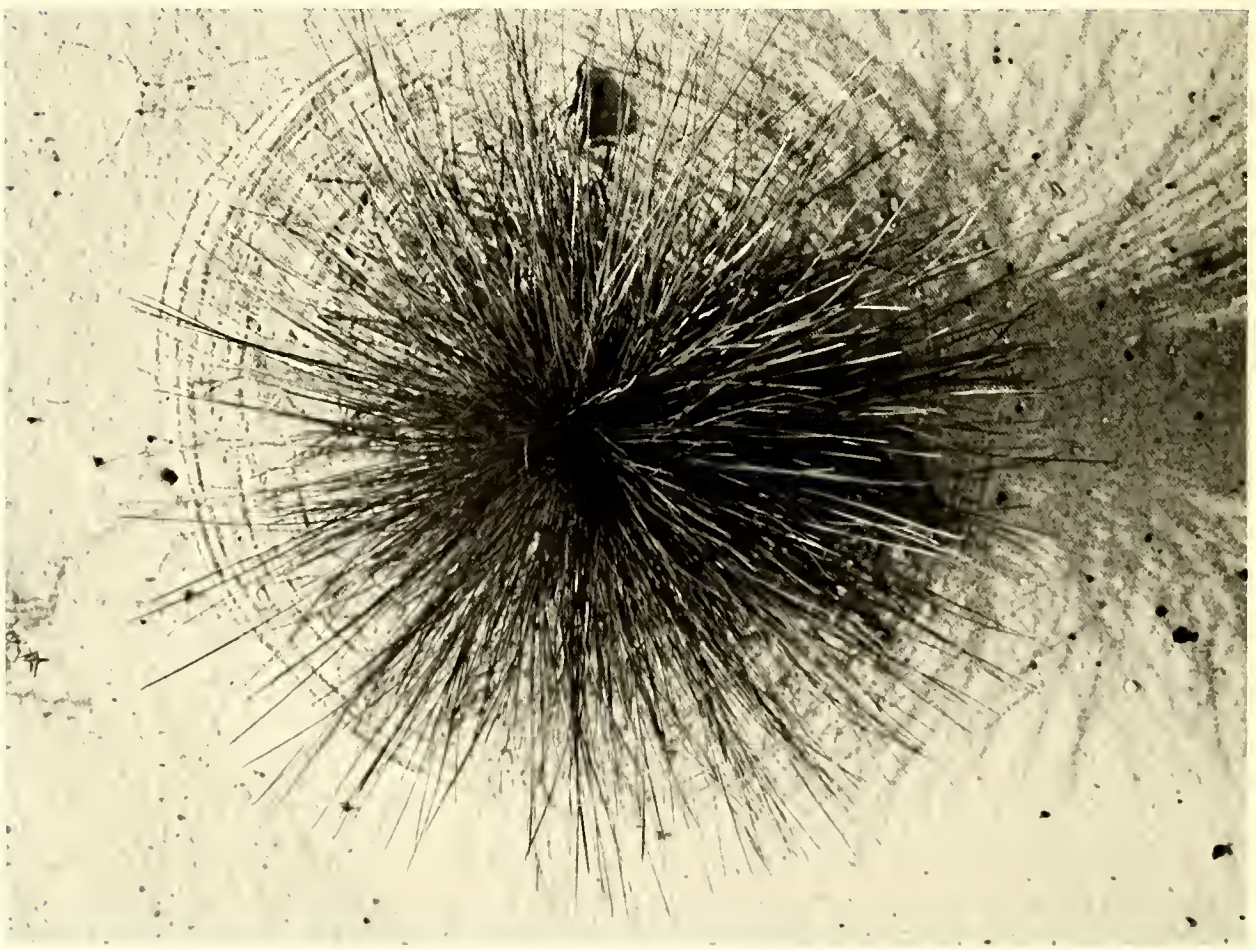
The world of '73 remains with us for now and forever . . . now to be lived . . . forever to be remembered.



all of its joys . . . all the pain and death . . . all of its injustice and poverty . . .

. . . its sunshine and its rainy days

. . . its times of togetherness and its times of lonliness . . .
its war, its starving children

. . . its rich, its poor; its good, its bad; its questions, its ideas and ideals

. . . its hopes, its anticipations, its dreams of a better tomorrow . . . a better world . . . of a tomorrow . . . a world . . .

Some men see things
as they are and say why.
I dream things that never were and say why not.
